

Participation in the bring your own book fair is open to publishers, booksellers, book distributors, collectives, individuals, makers, writers, designers, book owners etc.

Differently to previous fairs we have held under the name bring your own book fair, this fair will not be handling the administration and payment of the titles. This means that if you register for a spot in the fair, you will have to be present in order to display, sell, trade or give away your printed matter.

Tables will be given out according to the amount of titles registered in the form. Please contact us in case you have preferences.

While we will carry out general cleaning, the participants shall be responsible for the cleanliness and tidiness of the stalls at all times during the period of the fair. Please be aware of the environment and the people around you.

By participating in the fair you agree that we cannot be held accountable in case of stolen, missing or damaged works.

We operate an open submission policy and will only refuse participation in case of discriminatory or harmful content. This means that applying will confirm your participation automatically.

Participation in the fair will be free of charge as this year's book fair is made possible by the funding of Extra Intra, allowing us to provide free table spaces for all participants.

Please let us know if you don't want your image to be taken or shared throughout the event.
